Macro backdrop

High yield bonds delivered a positive return in the quarter and outperformed investment grade bonds. The ICE BofA Global High Yield Constrained (USD) Index delivered a total return of 0.2%, driven by positive excess returns (versus governments) despite credit spreads moving wider. Movements in government bond markets detracted from returns as the rates rally reversed direction to leave 10-year yields marginally higher on US Treasuries and German bunds. Central bank rhetoric turned increasingly hawkish amid continuing supply bottlenecks and rising inflation expectations.

US high yield marginally outperformed European high yield on an excess return basis. Troubled Chinese property group Evergrande weighed on sentiment, meaning emerging market high yield significantly underperformed. Issuance remains high as investors hunt for income and companies look to lock in low borrowing costs ahead of potential rate rises.

Fund performance and activity

The fund returned -0.4% over the quarter and underperformed the Index which returned 0.2%.

While our underweight position to Evergrande added to relative performance, that benefit was offset by overweight exposures elsewhere in the sector through Easy Tactic, Sunac and Kaisa. This resulted in the attribution from our exposure to China being neutral.

The biggest single-name detractor was the overweight position to Adler, the German residential property company, following news flow related to the Die Linke minor question and allegations in a short-seller report. Events triggered a stop-loss meeting on the issuer that led us to reduce our overweight position by around 50%. The overweight to software developer Clarivate also weighed on performance, although our conviction in the name remained.

At the asset allocation level, the fund's overweight risk stance overall relative to the benchmark added to performance as excess returns were positive. Also adding to performance was the overweight to CCC-rated credit and below. Overweight positions to Enquest and Bally's further benefited relative returns.
