Terms to understand

Derivatives Financial instruments whose value is linked to the price of an underlying asset (eg indices, rates, share prices).

Money market instruments A short term debt instrument, issued by a government or company as a way to raise money. Generally considered a cash equivalent.

Shares / Equities Securities that represent fractional ownership in a company.

Volatility How sharply the Fund's share price has gone up and down over a period, generally several years.

You can buy, sell or switch shares in the Fund on any business day, as defined within the "Definitions" Section of the Fund's prospectus.

This share class accumulates gross income and capital gains which is retained within the price of the share class.

Risk and reward profile

The value of an investment and any income from it can go up or down. When you sell your shares they may be worth less than you paid for them.

The risk/reward rating above is based on medium-term volatility. In the future, the Fund's actual volatility could be higher or lower and its rated risk/reward level could change.

The share class appears at 5 out of 7. Share classes in higher categories have shown greater and/or more frequent variations in share price in the past 5 years than those in lower categories. The lowest category does not mean risk free.

The rating does not reflect the possible effects of unusual market conditions or large unpredictable events. Under normal market conditions the following risks may apply:

Equities Shares can lose value rapidly, and typically involve higher risks than bonds or money market instruments. The value of your investment may fall as a result.

Sustainable Investment The Fund follows a sustainable investment approach, which may cause it to be overweight and/or underweight in certain sectors and thus perform differently than funds that have a similar objective but which do not integrate sustainable investment criteria when selecting securities.

Derivatives The Fund may use derivatives with the aim of reducing risk or managing the portfolio more efficiently. However this introduces other risks, in particular, that a derivative counterparty may not meet its contractual obligations.

Exchange Rates If the Fund holds assets in currencies other than the base currency of the Fund or you invest in a share class of a different currency to the Fund (unless 'hedged'), the value of your investment may be impacted by changes in exchange rates.

Liquidity Securities within the Fund could become hard to value or to sell at a desired time and price, especially in extreme market conditions when asset prices may be falling, increasing the risk of investment losses.

The full list of the Fund's risks are contained in the "Investment and Risk Considerations" section of the Fund's prospectus.
