Objectives and investment policy

The Fund aims to provide a return that reflects the performance of the J.P. Morgan Global CLOIE AAA EU Retention Screened Index (USD Hedged) (the "Reference Benchmark") which is designed to measure the performance of AAA-rated USD and Euro denominated collateralised loan obligations (CLOs) that comply with EU Securitisation RegulationThe Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing directly in a portfolio of eligible CLOs. The CLOs in which the Fund invests will be screened by the Investment Manager for compliance with the EU Securitisation Regulation.

The Fund's portfolio will comprise a subset of the constituents of the Reference Benchmark and may also include securities that are not constituents of the Reference Benchmark. Any securities that are not constituents of the Reference Benchmark will be rated AAA (or equivalent by a nationally recognised rating agency) at the time of purchase.

The Fund may invest up to 10% of its Net Asset Value in eligible collective investment schemes.

The Fund may use derivatives for hedging and efficient portfolio management purposes, including to manage interest rate and foreign currency exchange rate risk.For treasury management and/or defensive purposes (for example, during periods of adverse market conditions), the Fund may hold bank deposits and invest in Money Market Instruments and money market funds.The Fund is passively managed and seeks to track the performance of the Reference Benchmark through an optimised physical replication strategy. Rather than holding every constituent of the Reference Benchmark, the Investment Manager will typically invest in a representative portfolio of CLOs selected using portfolio optimisation techniques.

The optimisation process seeks to construct a portfolio with risk and return characteristics similar to those of the Reference Benchmark, taking into account factors such as spread duration, pricing margin, interest rate duration and currency exposure, while also considering transaction costs, liquidity and ESG considerations (as further described in the SFDR Annex).

As a result, the Fund may not hold all constituents of the Reference Benchmark or hold them in the same proportions as the Reference Benchmark. The anticipated level of tracking error is expected to be up to 0.5% under normal market conditions.

This indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk and reward profile of the Share Class.

The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may shift over time.

The lowest category (Category 1) does not mean 'risk free'.

The Share Class is rated 2 due to the nature of its investments and the frequency of price movement which include the following risks which may impact the value of the Share Class or expose it to losses.

- No capital protection: The value of your investment may go down as well as up and you may not get back the amount you invested.
- Liquidity risk: Lower liquidity means there are insufficient buyers or sellers to allow the Sub-Fund to sell or buy investments readily. Neither the Index provider nor the issuer make any representation or forecast on liquidity.

Credit Risk: An issuer of a bond (or money market instrument) may become unable or unwilling to pay interest or repay capital. If this happens or the market perceives this may happen, the value of the bond will fall.
Index Tracking: The performance of the Sub-Fund is not expected to precisely match the performance of the index at all times and the deduction of fees and expenses means the Sub-Fund might deliver a lower total return than the index.
Derivatives: Derivatives may be used with the aim of reducing risk or managing the portfolio more efficiently. However, this introduces other risks, in particular, that a derivative counterparty may not meet its contractual obligations.
Liquidity: Securities could become hard to value or to sell at a desired time and price, especially in extreme market conditions when asset prices may be falling, increasing the risk of investment losses.
Counterparty Risk and Operational Risk: Losses could be incurred if a counterparty became unwilling or unable to meet its obligations, or as a result of failure or delay in operational processes or the failure of a third party provider.
Collateralised Loan Obligations: Collateralised Loan Obligations (CLOs) are investments backed by pools of corporate loans. They carry risks from both the loans and the structure of the CLO. Risk varies by tranche, and credit ratings are not guarantees— even highly rated tranches can lose value in stressed markets. Key risks include liquidity, interest rate changes, credit defaults, and uncertainty around repayments.
CLO Prepayment, Extension or Call: Repayments from underlying loans are used to repay CLO securities after a specified period, but the timing is uncertain. Faster repayments can lead to early prepayment of securities trading above par, causing mark-to-market losses and forcing reinvestment at lower yields, reducing income. Slower repayments extend maturity, which can also result in losses. CLOs and callable securities may be redeemed early by issuers or equity holders, creating reinvestment challenges and potential income decline.
Dependence on Managers of CLOs: The performance of the sub-fund's investments in CLOs will depend in part upon the performance and operational effectiveness of the managers of the CLOs. The sub-fund will invest in CLOs which are subject to management and performance fees charged by the managers of the CLOs. These are in addition to the fees charged to the sub-fund.
